COUNSELING NEWS

Sept-Nov 2022

And just like that it's December! Last week's tree lighting ceremony was wonderful despite the less than ideal weather. It was so nice to see so many of you there. Let's all give a big shout out to the PTO for their hard work. I also wanted to take a moment to recognize everyone here at FTS. The students put forth so much effort in all that they do and the staff constantly go above and beyond. I know I am not alone, when I say I am amazed by everyone's kind and caring ways. I am truly honored to be a part of the FTS family!

CHARACTER EDUCATION UPDATES:

Character education lessons kicked off in September with an introduction (or shall we say reintroduction for returning students) and an overview of the role of the school counselor. October was a busy month that began with a fun filled spirit week to celebrate the week of respect. Students participated in a respect lesson centered on the theme of "FTS is Built on Respect". A school-wide banner, adorned with personalized Lego pieces, was created to reflect everyone's pledge to show respect. Students also participated in an anti-bullying lesson that focused on defining bullying and differentiating bullying from conflict. Overall, the key takeaway from all the lessons has been that when we lead with kindness we can be sure we're doing the right thing! Some of our upcoming lesson concepts will include feelings identification, I messages, self-care, coping skills, and social skills.

COUNSELING INFORMATION:

As the school counselor, I can provide short term individual counseling, as needed conflict resolution and can certainly offer group counseling if a need for such arise. As always, don't hesitate to contact me with any questions you may have.
